Briefs: Jaycees elect new leaders

June 19, 2009

From Submitted Reports

The Naperville Jaycees begin their fiscal year in June with 12 new directors and five officers for the community volunteer organization.

"I'm so proud to lead an organization that provides such dedicated support to my community," said Courtney Brown, newly-elected Jaycees' president. "We'll continue to provide as much support to the Naperville community as possible."

The officers elected to support Brown include: Joe Mensik, internal vice president; John Trojanowski, external vice president; Beth DeGeeter, secretary; Tom Manno, treasurer; and Clay Sander, state director. Paul DeKruiff, immediate past president, and Greg Moran, rooster representative, will also play active rolls within the steering committee.

Humane Society receives grant money

The Naperville Area Humane Society recently received a grant of $2,000 from the Naperville Jaycees for the 2009 "Animals and Us" Summer Day Camp.

This camp offers children ages 6 through 12 an opportunity to learn about a wide variety of topics including pet care, animal communication, pet safety, and careers available in animal welfare.

"We are extremely grateful to receive this grant and proud to be one of the organizations that the Naperville Jaycees chose to give to," said Linda Linford, executive director of the Humane Society.
